TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN

Faced with current restrictions regarding the COVID-19 pandemic, it is with much pleasure that I commend the organisers of the 2020 Sydney South African Film Festival for their decision to take the event nationally to South Africans and Australians alike, via an online platform.

Monies raised from the online Festival will support children attending Bellville South Primary and High School in South Africa, an Education without Borders project entirely funded by the Sydney South African Film Festival.

Your support of the Sydney South African Film Festival will provide much needed assistance to the disadvantaged children attending Bellville South, particularly in these challenging times.
